POT OF LAND

A country can buy stable coins from the central bank. For this the country must deposit the respective stable coins with its own gold as collateral. It is settled by a contract that the country transfers right of property of its gold to the central bank. The corresponding amount of stablecoins is transferred to the country and can be sold to the citizens.

For: Madagascar, Fort Dauphin

In accordance with your request for Fort Dauphin Fort mine assets review, we are pleased to present the following report. At your request, as the owner of the mine Madagascar Fort Dolphin. We handled the study in accordance with the International Auditing Standard 620 - With the Work of Experts. We conducted our audit in compliance with the International Standard of Liability Insurance 3000: Revised insurance and other contracts, except audits of historical financial information reviews and other international auditing standards issued by the International Audit Committee. Applicable to this agreement. These standards require compliance with ethical requirements as well as the planning and conduct of audits to obtain reasonable assurance about the adequacy of the average market value of raw materials for industrial processing in the Fort Dauphin area. This report contains confidential information and was prepared solely for the management of Karat Coin Bank INC to define the appropriateness of the average market value of Group assets. If this report may be made public or presented to a third party for use, the auditor assumes no liability to third parties, but confirms the accuracy of the content.
